

LINDSAY WINCHERAUK

ON THE SLUSH PILE

MY SISTER IS MY MUM

MY LIFE ON THE SLUSH PILE

A story about finding yourself after accidentally discovering your life started with a lie.

Not every day do you meet someone who watched both of his parents die from The Big C and laid them to rest, only to discover sixteen years later that they weren't his parents after all!

It's like being reborn as a whole different person.

ABOUT A BOY

A boy is born in a secret place. A dark place. A sad place.
His Mother is his Sister. Making her his Sister + his Mother.

His Father is his Grandfather.

His Grandmother is just his Grandmother.

His Brothers used to be just Brothers. But then it is discovered they might be Uncles as well.

That turned them into Brunkles.

His Sisters used to be just Sisters. But then it is discovered they might be Aunts as well.

That turned them into Sisaunts.

The boy is never meant to know the truth because his birth brings with it, shame.

How could any of them be, okay?

Especially, the boy and his Grandmother?

LOOSE ENDS

LOOSE ENDS

ARE YOU STILL HERE?

HEY, ED + EVERYONE ELSE

Thanks for sticking around.

Ed, I'd like to talk to you first; if it weren't for you popping into my mind when I was in the dumps over my life, never being worthy of publication, I might have not written this book. Don't worry; we're all worthy, and this typing-filled journey has helped me understand that fact.

Family life is vital to our well-being?

It sure must help. But for those out there struggling with a place of belonging. A place to call home. It's not everything, and to borrow from the old adage that you pick your friends, not your family, OMG, that rings loudly + profoundly for many, allowing hope to thrive.

LUCKY NUMBER 7

I guess I was. I got to watch from the outside, which gave me an incredible capacity for empathy, understanding, and compassion. Without my boat being rocked, I wouldn't be who and where I am today.

I'm confident in my story. I'm also convinced you will want to know more. I guarantee more is coming; that will rock your world. Mysteries will be unravelled, hate challenged; love will be all.

It's time to shave my head. I went to the pharmacy today and bought a five-blade razer. Once home, I hit the shower. I slathered my dome and swathed my skull with my new blades. Clumps of hair peeled off my scalp. Blood began pooling at my feet. I stuck twenty tiny sheets of toilet paper to my skull and headed out for the day. ⁽¹⁰²⁾

I have been described as devilishly handsome, Virile + Sexy, a combination of: Charlton Heston, George Clooney, Tom Cruise (before Oprah), Mark Harmon, the domino Pizza Noid, and the Dog from Scooby-Doo.

My wit has been described as Dry; it is glorious when people get me; even better when they don't!

Am I good enough?

By sharing my story, I made myself vulnerable and if a vulnerability is a badge of worth: Hell, yes, I am phenomenal!

What should you do now? ⁽¹⁰³⁾

102. Why the shower scene? Because I wanted to be naked for you one more time.

103. Go back to the start of the book and reread it. And send copies to five friends.

WHO IS LINDSAY WINCHERAUK?

Lindsay Wincherauk is a fearless writer. He has published two books and has had more than eighteen OPEDs appear in major commuter newspapers. Lindsay wasn't born with a silver spoon in his mouth. His father (who wasn't his father) worked as a mechanic. His mother (who wasn't his mother) worked as an excellent chef in a diner. In fact, his birth was in a secret place where | society deemed | unfit mothers were sent to give birth in isolation – shading families from shame. If the babies survived being born, usually, they were sold to wealthy Americans or adopted out to farm families.

Lindsay's life began with a lie.

Despite Lindsay's perilous beginnings, starting with deception, Lindsay knew no better and went through life excelling at things, usually in two-year stints. Be that athletics (hall of fame, record holding, one-eyed quarterback), scholastically, career-wise (generating more than $70 million in revenue for one company), socially, + without question: creatively!

Lindsay's challenging beginning instilled in Lindsay heaping doses of compassion and empathy. Lindsay's life starting out as a lie gave him a keen sense to spot BS from miles away. It also provided him with a dry sense of humour and an understanding those born with silver spoons in their mouths will never be self-aware enough to understand (or admit) their good fortune.

During Lindsay's work career, he was well-liked by all coworkers. Lindsay was also well respected by his diverse collection of clients, developing several fantastic friendships, primarily because Lindsay is known for his unflinching integrity and ability to hold conversations on most topics.

Lindsay's life mantra is:

The most valuable part of life is the fabulous people we meet during our journeys. If you treat people with respect (leaving judgment at the door), and more importantly, by opening doors for those less fortunate or who can't speak up for themselves, you are living a good, compassionate life. Making money at all costs is not the only thing mattering. Life can be difficult + devastatingly unfair.

Lindsay believes sharing vulnerability is what makes us human. Lindsay will never shy away from being honest about his pain.

Lindsay also believes we must stand up for ourselves, + more importantly, for those who are too burdened by the injustices of life, they can't find the strength to stand up for themselves.

SOME THINGS LINDSAY IS MOST PROUD OF ARE WHEN:

- A sixty-year-old employee of his, who had entered a point of life where life had become more struggle than joy (it happens to all of us as we age), said to Lindsay, “I must thank you. I’ve listened to how you treat people, + by listening, I’ve learned so much about compassion and patience. Thank you. I consider you a great friend.”
- Another employee who was struggling with addiction thanked Lindsay for his kindness, presenting Lindsay with a Christmas card from him and his girlfriend. Tucked inside the card: lottery tickets.

LINDSAY WINCHERAUK, compassionate, empathetic, well-read, kind, blessed with unflinching integrity, humour in balance, loved by coworkers + friends alike.

Lindsay will always stick up for the underdog. Lindsay understands there are countless older people suffering job loss because COVID gave some companies an opportunity to – Lindsay thinks it is essential to draw attention to this life-threatening issue by being the voice for those too broken to speak up for themselves.

Lindsay is currently pitching four manuscripts to publishers and literary agencies. One of the manuscripts (he can’t talk about) will blow the roof off the predatory practices of – Lindsay is writing relentlessly and is also pitching OPEDs and short stories, fiction, + non to literary magazines around the globe.

Lindsay has appeared on Breakfast Television, radio programs in Montreal, + several others in the Vancouver area. Lindsay has also been a featured guest on CKNW + CBC, both on several occasions. And Lindsay was a vital witness of a Hate Crime. This led to the first Hate Crime conviction in Canadian legal history, resulting in him being a speaker at an Enough is Enough Rally (anti-violence rally) with dignitaries, politicians, law enforcement, and community leaders in front of a crowd of approximately five thousand.

Lindsay was the #1 MIXED-TAPE DJ at the UNIVERSITY OF SASKATCHEWAN for most of the nineteen-eighties, a fact bringing him joy.

Lindsay resides in Vancouver.
