

28 QUESTIONS ABOUT THE INAUGURATION + MASTURBATION

He was really masturbating...

Can anybody help me out; I haven't been able to find any news on:

1. Have the manufacturing jobs returned to America?
2. Are the voices of the people finally being heard?
3. Who exactly are the forgotten people – and what needs to be done for us to remember them?
4. What is this Movement I keep hearing about all about? Apparently, it's historic.
5. What's the difference between righteous people and the righteous public?

time out

I MUST ADMIT I ENJOYED

Rusted out factories scattered like tombstones across the landscape of our nation. An education system flush with cash, but which leaves our young and beautiful students deprived of all knowledge (what about the not-so-beautiful ones). And the crime and the gangs. And drugs. have stolen too many lives. And robbed our country of so much unrealized potential.

Is America really collapsing?

I went to Seattle last year, and except for the guy masturbating in a Starbucks at 4 PM on a Sunday Afternoon, I found it to be lovely. I figured the masturbator was some sort of performance art.

When the manager said to him, “Sir (he said Sir to a masturbator LOL), you can’t do that here.”

Sir simply replied, “Why not?”

6. Back to the factories: When the long-gone factories return, will the automation that has replaced workers; have to be American-made?
7. What is America going to win?
8. Winning implies someone will have to lose; who’s going to lose – I think what I was hearing: it is now America vs. everyone; am I wrong? I hope the game goes into overtime!
9. We will bring back our jobs. We will bring back our borders. With unemployment at 4.7% only a few points away from peak employment, they better allow more immigrants to fill the positions if these jobs come back. And where the hell did the borders go?
10. Is welfare complex or straightforward – is nobody on welfare anymore – has everybody returned to work?
11. How do you bring back dreams? I had a plan last night. And the night before. I don’t want them all to come back. Significantly, the one where topless women were tossing men wearing rugby pants off the roofs of parking garages.

RUGBY PANTS?

12. Buy American, Hire American.

I think for February I am going to try not buying anything made in America.

What does an American look like, Gary Busey?

I Googled crazy guy from Celebrity Apprentice, and the top story was about Gary Busey, I love you, Google.

13. How can #12 be followed by: We will seek friendship and goodwill with the nations of the world..?
14. We do not seek to impose our way of life on anyone.... What country was he talking about?

PARAPHRASE

Hey BMW, if you don't build your cars (German Cars) in the USA instead of Mexico – we will slap tariffs on you” so that the only people who will afford BMWs will be the rich. No more BMWs for the forgotten.

15. Has it has eradicated radical Islamic terrorism from the world?
16. When you open your heart to patriotism, you'll.... Doesn't the single mother in the ghetto have other things on her mind?
17. The Bible tells us how good and pleasant it is when God's people live together in unity. Is the Bible only for Americans, and how does 'winning' factor into "pleasant – together – unity?"
18. What does America is unstoppable mean? Who, the bleep, is in the way of America?
19. Do not allow anyone to tell you it cannot be done. I want to swear – what the hell is; "IT?"
20. Do I want to do it? Sounds confusing.
21. Will doing it require a towel?
22. We stand at the birth of a new millennium, ready to unlock the mysteries of space, to free the Earth from the miseries of disease and to harness the energies, industries and technologies of tomorrow.
23. What the fuck does 22 mean?
24. When do millenniums start? Confused?
25. ... whether we are black or brown or white, we all bleed the same red blood as patriots. He is okay with minorities when they are bleeding?
26. ...urban sprawl of Detroit... no question here.
27. Detroit... Nebraska... the kids share the same dreams?
28. ...It infused them with the breath of life.... I just puked. Was he talking about children or vodka?

I just turned on the live feed of the rallies against Trump: MR. DJT takes a peek at the crowds. That is what America really looks like. Wait. These rallies are around the world! Must run, going to let the people in my life know I love and care about them. I'm going to be kind to everyone else. And when I slip up, I'm going to learn from my mistakes without being too hard on myself.

Have a great day!

WHO IS LINDSAY WINCHERAUK?

Lindsay Wincherauk is a fearless writer. He has published two books and has had more than eighteen OPEDs appear in major commuter newspapers. Lindsay wasn't born with a silver spoon in his mouth. His father (who wasn't his father) worked as a mechanic. His mother (who wasn't his mother) worked as an excellent chef in a diner. In fact, his birth was in a secret place where |society deemed| unfit mothers were sent to give birth in isolation – shading families from shame. If the babies survived being born, usually, they were sold to wealthy Americans or adopted out to farm families.

Lindsay's life began with a lie.

Despite Lindsay's perilous beginnings, starting with deception, Lindsay knew no better and went through life excelling at things, usually in two-year stints. Be that athletics (hall of fame, record holding, one-eyed quarterback), scholastically, career-wise (generating more than $70 million in revenue for one company), socially, + without question: creatively!

Lindsay's challenging beginning instilled in Lindsay heaping doses of compassion and empathy. Lindsay's life starting out as a lie gave him a keen sense to spot BS from miles away. It also provided him with a dry sense of humour and an understanding those born with silver spoons in their mouths will never be self-aware enough to understand (or admit) their good fortune.

During Lindsay's work career, he was well-liked by all coworkers. Lindsay was also well respected by his diverse collection of clients, developing several fantastic friendships, primarily because Lindsay is known for his unflinching integrity and ability to hold conversations on most topics.

Lindsay's life mantra is:

The most valuable part of life is the fabulous people we meet during our journeys. If you treat people with respect (leaving judgment at the door), and more importantly, by opening doors for those less fortunate or who can't speak up for themselves, you are living a good, compassionate life. Making money at all costs is not the only thing mattering. Life can be difficult + devastatingly unfair.

Lindsay believes sharing vulnerability is what makes us human. Lindsay will never shy away from being honest about his pain.

Lindsay also believes we must stand up for ourselves, + more importantly, for those who are too burdened by the injustices of life, they can't find the strength to stand up for themselves.

SOME THINGS LINDSAY IS MOST PROUD OF ARE WHEN:

- A sixty-year-old employee of his, who had entered a point of life where life had become more struggle than joy (it happens to all of us as we age), said to Lindsay, "I must thank you. I've listened to how you treat people, + by listening, I've learned so much about compassion and patience. Thank you. I consider you a great friend."
- Another employee who was struggling with addiction thanked Lindsay for his kindness, presenting Lindsay with a Christmas card from him and his girlfriend. Tucked inside the card: lottery tickets.

LINDSAY WINCHERAUK, compassionate, empathetic, well-read, kind, blessed with unflinching integrity, humour in balance, loved by coworkers + friends alike.

Lindsay will always stick up for the underdog. Lindsay understands there are countless older people suffering job loss because COVID gave some companies an opportunity to – Lindsay thinks it is essential to draw attention to this life-threatening issue by being the voice for those too broken to speak up for themselves.

Lindsay is currently pitching four manuscripts to publishers and literary agencies. One of the manuscripts (he can't talk about) will blow the roof off the predatory practices of – Lindsay is writing relentlessly and is also pitching OPEDs and short stories, fiction, + non to literary magazines around the globe.

Lindsay has appeared on Breakfast Television, radio programs in Montreal, + several others in the Vancouver area. Lindsay has also been a featured guest on CKNW + CBC, both on several occasions. And Lindsay was a vital witness of a Hate Crime. This led to the first Hate Crime conviction in Canadian legal history, resulting in him being a speaker at an Enough is Enough Rally (anti-violence rally) with dignitaries, politicians, law enforcement, and community leaders in front of a crowd of approximately five thousand.

Lindsay was the #1 MIXED-TAPE DJ at the UNIVERSITY OF SASKATCHEWAN for most of the nineteen-eighties, a fact bringing him joy.

Lindsay resides in Vancouver.
